Preface

In the name of God, Most Gracious, Most Merciful I write my words with a steady hand and a light heart. This is a work of art which some may misconceive by considering it pure madness. However, poets' lives are a mixture of art and madness to produce a masterpiece. It is a thing that most people don't understand, and I have decided to walk the path I chose for myself a long time ago whether people liked it or not.

One of the greatest challenges in life is being yourself in a world that is trying to make you someone else, with people trying to ridicule your art and discourage you in order to fail in achieving your dreams. They would fight you to make you like them. Because you are different, extraordinary, a phenomenon who would shape and fashion a new world. Don't change yourself so that people like you. Always be yourself even if you were wrong in the eyes of others. Just be yourself and the right people will love you. Some of you may say that it is a wonderful feeling to become great. Greatness always comes with consequences that leave you with wounds never heal in time elapse. So, remembering these wounds will always make you a greater person, a star that shines brighter than other stars.

Poem: Sword-like Pen

Do not fear a sword-like pen
Just lines written by a steady hand
Accompanied by such a light heart
Sorcery you may mouth
But skill shall prevail

Perfection appetite led my heart
To the depth of my loving soul
Accompanied by such spirit
The art I have mastered
Art of love so

Searching for pieces of puzzling vocabulary
Inside an old man's dictionary
Such seduction pushed me to look
To find my lost soul within Marvelous meanings await

Cast away human love
But the Ever-living and the Sustainer
If he does so, all do Trust
the Ever-living God so
Miracles and visions obey man

- General meaning:

It is about using learning as a powerful instrument to perfection.

- Intention:

The importance of love of God and learning

Poem: The Emotive Vision of Man

Nightly vision struck my soul
To the very existence of my heart
Calling upon me to fancy
What is rightfully mine
Make love your goal

Crossed the line you say
By honest fate I hereby
Brought from confluence of souls

To love and adore so
My due I shall obtain

Visions drove me forward
To know inward mysteries
Of persons you never know
Of mind and spirit
Lunacy is surely claimed

- General meaning:

It is about a man who is guided by visions.

- Intention:

The importance of truthful visions in our lives

Poem: Vengeance

Harmful grievance ignited revenge
Kindled both soul and mind
Within my flared veins
Flame of the wrongful
Sparkled the hell for all

Every spirit I encountered
Fragments of mine lost
Avenger of the misfortune
Avenge my lost fragments
Scattered around whereabouts

Vengeful self of grief halts
Redeem humanity as before
As the dignified faithful once forgot
Heedless doing of the reckless
Caused rage has never known before

Stanza: The Best of Me

Here I stand again
With pain in mine heart
With bounding fire and ice
I give to thee mine jewel
The very best of me

The Portrait of Human Inner and Outer Soul

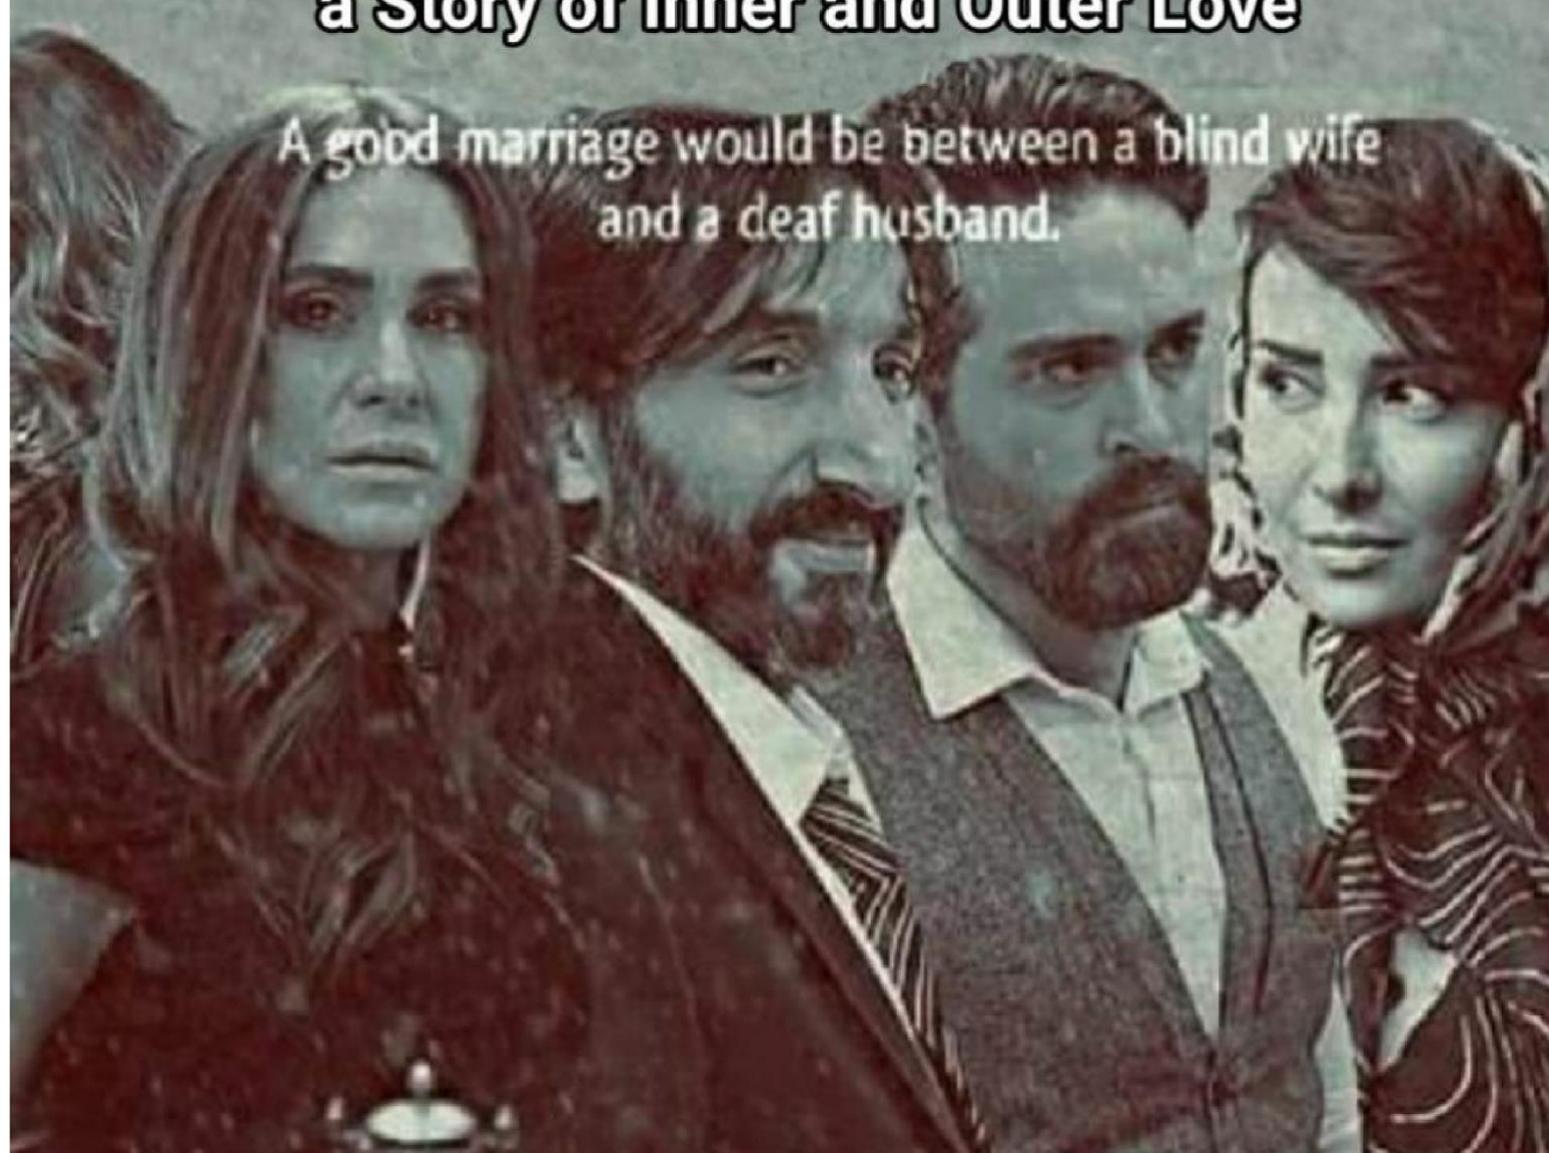

The painting above, is a demonstration of the soul. First, you see a burning heart that symbolizes how human is indulged in earthly pleasures. Inside, we see an angel hugging a demon which represents the moody temper of the human, he is good and bad at the same time. Second, outside the human soul, we have many entities angels and devils. Both of them are trying to influence the human heart and mind; however, devils do not have any control over the human. They just whisper to his mind, and if the soul is good, it does not follow the evil whispers of the devils.

The Blind Music Teacher

a Story of Inner and Outer Love

A good marriage would be between a blind wife and a deaf husband.

Short Story:

The Blind Music Teacher

A Story about Inner and Outer Love

A 41-year-old blind teacher named S'aad, is working as a music teacher. Married for 14 years with a beautiful 13-year-old daughter and an old mother.

She was there, but he didn't notice her. All that time, she loved him, but he considered her as a student not as a love. She was very beautiful, but he had a beloved wife whom was more beautiful from the inside than his unnoticeable love. He was blind at eyes, but not at heart. He has very musical ears, with tender taste of music.

He would notice you from your voice, feel your emotions and see your inner soul. His wife was the one behind his greatness. She supported him by writing notes, giving him a ride every time to his work place, and most importantly love. Why would a woman love a blind man whom is powerless in comparison to other men? Is she beautiful or the ugliest woman on earth? What would happen when an eye-closed man opens his eyes to see such seductive looks of women? Surely, he would curse the moment his mother chose the partner he never saw in his entire life. A surgery conducted in hope that he would receive his sight. All his family and students were there for him to support him in that very day that he would see them, and know how they look in real life. The results were marvelous, when he first opened his eyes, he saw a beautiful woman whom he thought to be his wife. It was a sudden shock for him to see an ugly woman telling him "my husband", and the beauty was the student whom he ignored for a very long time. It is different now, he begins to notice his house that he thought to be a palace, his daughter, his older mother, and most disdainfully his wife. His feelings changed and he is no longer that needy man whom his wife treated just like a baby. He began noticing how life is beautiful, and he became blind at heart. It is his right to be like the others, to fall in love with someone he chooses, not like the one whom his mother chose a long time ago. The eye-opened man decided to fall in love with his long ignored beloved student, and ignore his long-loving wife. Meanwhile, his family became devastated because of the devastating consequences of his choice. At the same time, his family made their choice too, leaving him to shape and fashion his own life...

The difficult thing isn't living with other people, it's understanding them. Perhaps only in a world of the blind will things be what they truly are. People didn't go blind, we are already blind, blind but seeing, blind people who can see, but do not see.

The Pure Lamb Lady

A Story of Tears Mingled with Rain Drops

Lucy, a eighteen-year-old girl, is trying to overcome a difficult break-up. She narrates her story while it is raining at midnight.

Once upon a midnight, I was sitting alone with myself thinking about the crooked way he used to get rid of me just like he did with the rest of girls he met. Am I a fool? Or it's just my fate to be alone or I am just merely a lamb surrounded by manly wolves of desire, masked to lead this clear innocent lamb to their lair. It's their home, such place full of hostility and pain. For them, it's like heaven on earth. The well-suited wolf led me gently to his nest, and I happily surrendered both body and soul to this monstrous beast of desire. It was gentle at first, but hard and cruel in the end. He told me sincerely that he loved me with a cunning smile which I perceived as an honest sign of loyalty.

The lamb continued to believe and support the wolf with money and affection until one unclear ominous rainy night; he was driving me home when I asked him, "Do you love me dear?" "Of course my love. You are everything in my life! You are the key of my heart.", he replied. "But I always see you with other girls." Suddenly, the car stopped." How about having a lot of keys, and throwing the old one away?" He said violently. Finally, the wolf decided to take off his mask that he hid behind, and revealed the monster inside. The gentle wolf opened the door for me as usual. I remember that he tossed me away just like a piece of trash. I didn't recognise if it was tears or just drops of rain. Then, he drove the car away without a sense of guilt. It's something familiar for them as being wolves. It was a devastating experience for me as a lady who gave everything for nothing. After that, I recovered from that horrible night, and learned the lesson in the hard way: "Why do we fall? So we can learn to pick ourselves up."

Short Story:

Behind Every Great Man Is a Woman

A group of tourists was visiting a crocodile farm, and they were in a floating structure in the middle of a crocodile lake. The owner of the farm shouted: "Whoever jumps into the water and swims to shore, will receive 10 million dollars. The silence was deafening. Suddenly, a man jumped into the water. He was chased by crocodiles, but with great luck he was unharmed. The owner announced: "We have a winner!".

After receiving their reward, the man and his wife returned to the hotel room. The man tells his wife: "I did not jump in myself. Someone pushed me!" His wife smiled and said coldly: "It was me!" Moral of the story: "Behind every successful man, there is always a woman to give him a little push."

Short Story:

Island of Feelings

Once upon a time, there were six people on an island: Happiness, Sadness, Knowledge, Fear, anger and Love. One day, the island would sink, so all constructed boats and left, except for Love. Love was the only one who stayed. Love wanted to hold out until the last possible moment. When the island had almost sunk, Love decided to ask for help.

Richness was passing by Love in a grand boat.

Love said: "Richness, can you take me with you?"

Richness answered: "No, I can't. There is a lot of gold and silver in my boat. There is no place here for you." Love decided to ask Vanity who was also passing by in a beautiful vessel. "Vanity, please help me!" said Love, "I can't help you, Love. You are all wet and might damage my boat." Vanity answered. Sadness was close by so Love said: "Sadness, let me go with you." "Oh... Love, I am so sad that I need to be by myself!". Happiness passed by Love, too, but she was so happy that she did not even hear when Love called her. Suddenly, there was a voice, "Come, Love, I will take you." It was an elder. Love was blessed and overjoyed even forgot to ask the elder where they were going. When they arrived at dry land, the elder went her own way. Realizing how much was owed the elder, Love asked

Knowledge:

"Who helped me?" "It was Time,"

Knowledge answered. "Time?" asked Love. "But why did Time help me?" Knowledge smiled with deep wisdom and answered,

"Because only Time is capable of understanding how valuable Love is."

Short Story:

Heart of Stone

A woman named Jane, has just found her dream man John. Their first date was at a restaurant that is famous for making tango parties. But unfortunately, every relationship has its own disadvantages.

She was sitting alone with herself. "She is sad. I broke her heart." said I, seen her holding a half-empty glass of whine, I filled her glass." Are you alone honey? You know just to keep people's eyes away from realizing you're alone." I told her, noticing her tears were pouring as I was pouring that whine into the glass.

"We're done." she whispered, "How did you find me?", I remembered that she was in love with tango, so, "Want to tango darling?"

She smiled with blushed cheeks when I held her hand with hearing her familiar heartless heart beating, "I will kill you. I will burn you to ash and dust when we're home." she said to me as she was taken the hearts of men around her. "I will fight!." said I. Suddenly, the beast left. Back home, we had our weapons loaded, and fought the good fight. In the morning, when she woke up, I surprised her with a rose. Somehow, she knew I wouldn't leave her. A woman's heart is a deep ocean of secrets. So, sail bravely, aware of sudden waves of destruction.

Addicted

A successful businesswoman named Merry, seems to have a charmed life. She has a wonderful loving husband named Jason with two beautiful children and a thriving career. However, as perfect as her life might look to other people, Merry is secretly tormented by nymphomania. Her need for constant sexual gratification leads her into a secretive existence - one that, has put her family, career and life on the line. In the beginning, her husband didn't satisfy her desire. So, Merry's addiction begins to take over her life; she soon begins sleeping with a second man, Joe , whom she met at a club. One day, when she comes home from work, she finds Joe at her home talking to her mother. Seeing the danger she had put her family in, Merry decides that she wants to try to break up her marriage with Jason. So, she decides to leave her husband and live with her boyfriend Joe. Also, Jason decides to leave the house with the children who are left by their mother. After a couple of weeks, Joe got sick of Merry's sex addiction and decided to get rid of her. The devastated Merry returned to her former house to find only a letter that was written by her husband saying: " Left Forever!"

Ultimately, Merry has destroyed her life and family by following her desire for ecstasy that lasts only for seconds. Sex addicts are everywhere around us, and you can't know them only if you notice their behaviours. It's O.K. if you like to have sex, and it is your right as a human.

But, when it reaches the level of addiction, it can be highly dangerous and result in considerable difficulties with relationships. Like drug or alcohol dependence, it has the potential to negatively impact a person's physical and mental health, personal relationships, quality of life, and safety. It's believed that a person with sex addiction will seek out multiple sex partners, though this in itself is not necessarily a sign of a disorder. Some report that it may manifest itself as a compulsive need to masturbate, view pornography, or be in sexually stimulating situations.

The Meaning of a Woman

People tend to fall into two camps. Some believe a woman is simply as the dictionary will tell you: an adult human female. Others believe that a woman is defined by her social reality; if she identifies as a woman, performs as woman, then she is for all intents and purposes, a woman.

Qualities of women: of course, men prefer beautiful but a stupid woman more than a clever one, that is why we see most smart women single. All men have philogyny. It is fondness, love, or admiration towards women. So, the physical beauty of women is an important life advantage.

Men would love a passionate woman, a brave strong one that he can rely on when he falls. At work, courageous women take charge and manifest a new vision. They know courage is an inside job, and “managing up” is the key to stepping up and taking control. Courageous women are proud of their authenticity when they are effective. They are eager to discover the next opportunity. They find themselves constantly asking, “What if I had unlimited courage?” They are free to act through the portal of their hearts. Such actions embody the original definition of courage meaning, “heart and spirit.”

God has afflicted men with women.

God made Eve for Adam not Adam for Eve. So, when women realize men need you more than you need them, you are going to rule the world. Strong women are beautifully strong and powerful. They are beautiful creatures that many men admire from afar. Their kind of intensity is difficult for some men to understand. They aren't submissive. They aren't people pleasers. They are strong-willed and bold. Strong women don't have an attitude. They have standards. It takes strong men to understand the emotional chaos that comes up with this type of women.

But, as Lord Hamlet once said, "Frailty, Thy Name is Woman", so, these weak creatures don't appreciate the kindness that good men grant them because they are beautifully weak.

Submission of Women

First of all, all religions demand that a woman must obey and submit to a man in all things family, business, religion, work, war, sex, law, travel, relationships, and marriage. There is a big problem nowadays that men marry only for sex, that is why we see cheating is very common in relationships. First, women are believed to experience and express discrete emotions such as happiness, fear, disgust, and sadness more frequently than men. Multiple researchers have found that women cry more frequently, and for a larger duration of time than men at similar ages.

Additionally, several studies have shown that certain hormones like testosterone and estrogen play a role in the way emotions are expressed. As for men, they may express emotions only in places where they feel safe. They can hide their feelings forever if it is necessary. But, the question is: why would Women Cheat?

There are three main reasons for cheating in women : lack of love for a partner, desire for sexual variety, and situational factors. In older generations, men were much more likely to cheat than women, whereas in the current generation women and men are cheating at similar rates. If women continued to go without their sexual needs being met, they would have to break up their families and break their partner's heart. Clearly, sex isn't enough. That's why most relationships end in failure. So, man must show his wife actions indicate that he is superior to her even if she is smarter or wealthier than him. That is the secret to a successful relationship. Because by doing this, you are showing your manhood and masculinity, and women will understand that without telling them. Because, actions speak louder than words.

Love Stories

Is meeting the right one coincidence or fate? And how do love stories begin? These questions are very complicated and debatable at the same time. When it comes to love, I like the idea of both fate and coincidence bringing two people together who should be together. Love is wonderful, and finding the right one by coincidence is awesome, but finding the one via fate is amazing.

Both fate and coincidence are beyond our control. They just happen. Fate is what's meant to be, no matter what you do, and coincidence is a matter of right place, right time.

What is fate?

Fate, also known as destiny, is the development of events beyond a person's control, regarded as determined by a supernatural power. A relationship that is fated to happen is meant to be.

What is a coincidence?

A coincidence is a remarkable concurrence of events or circumstances without apparent causal connection.

In my opinion, every love story has a beginning. It may be easier to start a romantic relationship when you are bonded in a common background. But solidifying it still requires compatibility and effort. The beginning of love stories do not start when two people meet.

I believe that there is a place called "confluence of souls" where all souls had been there before they reincarnated in body shape. When souls were there, some became beloved, and some hated each other very much.

So, when we come across those whom we once shared a meaningful love connection with from a former lifetime, we say it is a love story.

Alone

Some people think of “being alone” as a bad thing. It either means you’re anti-social, or unwanted, neither of which are a good position to be in.

During this COVID-19 crisis, many have to stay home and are unable to meet their friends and family. Maybe being alone during this time is particularly painful. But actually, being alone isn’t necessarily a bad thing, as there are a handful of benefits that emerge once you learn to embrace solitude. Once you learn to enjoy being alone, you’re going to grow as a person.

Some people are naturally happy alone. But for others, being solo is a challenge. If you fall into the latter group, there are ways to become more comfortable with being alone. Regardless of how you feel about being alone, building a good relationship with yourself is a worthy investment. After all, you do spend quite a bit of time with yourself, so you might as well learn to enjoy it.

There are signs that you are meant to be alone: First, you believe that it is better to be unhappy with peace of mind than happy with troubles.

Second, you like your “alone” time way more than having any “together” time. You need a partner just for sex and to satisfy your desire. If you hate the family or parents of your partner then it is better to be alone. If you are afraid of being well-known by another person. Also, you think no one can meet all of your needs and that the perfect person doesn’t exist. Finally, if you think no one can understand you then you are meant to be alone.
