The teacher appears to be in her mid-thirties, although her actual age is over five hundred years old, a result of the influence of martial arts on youth and young adults. The beautiful teacher was accompanied by thirty students, aged between ten and thirty years, most of whom were male. Among them stands out a fifteen-year-old young man, who has an exceptional talent that makes him outperform his colleagues with his arrogance and self-confidence. This young man arouses the jealousy and envy of his colleagues, but he remains insisting on his ability to excel

Chapter Five: Reality

The picture is colored with colors of bitterness and sadness, as the young girl reveals her difficult reality in this harsh world. She was born only a month ago, but she finds herself in a confusing situation. She does not know much about this world or its laws and traditions. Her story embodies the tragedy of children who are born randomly, exposed to a life of homelessness and neglect, amid a harsh social system that does not give them the opportunity to live in dignity.

In this world, childbearing is merely considered a recreational or training activity, far from the real responsibility of raising children. The process of procreation requires request to the “gods,” who nurture the world and provide the necessary resources for it. The problem is that this process takes a long time, and the child is often not delivered at all, making it uncertain and a gamble with the child's life.

Chapter Six: The Two Devils

Called "Demon Fighters," they are considered a danger to people and are known for their aggressive and destructive behavior. The reasons they turn into this situation range from neglect and frustration to hunger, destitution, and the psychological and physical injuries they suffer.

In light of this harsh reality, the search for strength and survival becomes the focus of many people's lives, and they search for ways to survive in the face of the harsh challenges they face.
